Lobo Of The Tasaday A Stone Age Boy Meets The Modern World

Lobo of the Tasaday - 1981
An account of the life of a young boy belonging to a Stone Age tribe recently discovered in a remote jungle in the Philippines.

The Gentle Tasaday - John Nance 1988

Discovery of the Tasaday - John Nance 1981

Invented Edwin Rola in 1971. Edwin Rola, a Philippine government minister with a dubious background, discovered a band of twenty-six "Stone-Age" misfit forest dwellers living in total isolation. The tribe was soon featured in American newspapers and graced the cover of National Geographic. But after a series of abortive anthropological ventures, the Tasaday Reserve established by Ferdinand Marcos was closed to visitors, and the tribe vanished from public view. Twelve years later, a Swiss reporter tracked into the area and discovered that the Tasaday were actually farmers whom Edwain had coerced into dressing as savages and posing with stone tools. The "anthropological find of the century" had become the "ethnographic hoax of the century." Or maybe not. Rola's theory tells a story that is more complex than either the hoax proponents or the authority advocates might care to admit. It is a gripping and ultimately tragic tale of innocence found, lost, and found again. The author provides an afterword for this Bsoon Books edition.

The Teacher's Book of Lists (Debra Mazeros) 2006-02-01 Lists provide endless inspiration for any teacher. Many have introductory notes with background information and suggestions for educational use. Some lists are accompanied by worksheets and activities. For example, after the Abbreviations list, students identify abbreviations in telephone messages and rewrite them using complete words. In the apt phrase of the book, here's a list of topics covered: words, spelling, writing, communication, literature, math, science, the environment, social studies, art and music, and teacher and family references. Grades 1-4. Answer key. Illustrated. Good Year Books. 370 pages. Second Edition.

The Tasaday Controversy - Thomas N. Headland 1992

Housed: Editors of Yes Mag 2009 Filled with facts, experiments, amusing anecdotes, and thought-provoking quotations, a guide helps readers to discern fact and fiction in the realms of science.

The Riverside Anthology of Children's Literature - Judith Saltzman 1983
An anthology of nursery tales and rhymes, nonsense verse, poetry, folk tales, mythology epics, fiction, and non-fiction from a variety of sources.

Kirk-Dash Reviews - 1988 Adult books are categorized by genre (e.g., fiction, mystery, science fiction, nonfiction). Along with bibliographic information, the expected date of publication and the names of literary agents for individual titles are provided. Shook reviews serve several functions: in the adult section, they mark potential bestsellers, major promotions, book club selections, and just very good books; in the children's section, they denote books of high quality. The unsigned reviews manage to be discerning and sometimes quite critical.

Book Reports - Patricia Lewis 1981-09-01 Milliken's "Book Reports" workbook is a compilation of book report forms on twelve book categories from Adventure to Sports and Hobbits. Each book report form includes questions at three levels of comprehension: literal, interpretive, and creative. A book list, forms to keep track of silent and oral reading, and tips for choosing a book and giving an oral book report are also included.

Children's Book Prizes - Both Allen 2001-01-22 First published in 1998, this book is the first comprehensive survey of the awards made to children's books in the English-speaking world. The Volume covers nearly forty different prizes including well known and established ones such as the Newbery Award, prizes instigated by the commercial sector such as the Smarties Prize, as well as nationally sponsored awards and prizes for illustrators. Detailed lists are provided of the winning titles and, where appropriate, the runners up in each year that the award has been given. Ruth Allen also presents fascinating and often-entertaining insights into the motivations behind awards and how they are viewed by authors, illustrators, publishers, librarians, booksellers and potential purchasers. The various criteria applied by judges of these awards are also examined, with an assessment of whether they have always achieved the "right" result. This Volume is both a useful guide for adults wishing to buy good books for children and an important tool for those researching the history of the children's book industry.

The Elementary School Library Collection, Phases 1-2-3 - 1996

Recommended Readings in Literature - California Department of Education 1989 This list of over 1,250 readings was compiled by teachers, administrators, curriculum planners, and librarians throughout California to encourage students to read, to help local curriculum planners select books for their reading programs, and to stimulate educators at the local level to evaluate their literature programs and change or improve them if necessary. The book contains 1,010 titles that represent classical as well as contemporary works of fiction, nonfiction, poetry, and drama. The book is divided into three sections: "Core and Extended Materials," "Recreational and Motivational Materials," and "Materials for Students in Grades Seven and Eight." [34]

Recommended Readings in Literature - California State Department of Education 1994 This list of over 1,250 readings was compiled by teachers, administrators, curriculum planners, and librarians throughout California to encourage students to read, to help local curriculum planners select books, and to stimulate educators to evaluate their literature programs. The list contains three types of literature: core, including what is taught in classrooms; extended, including readings assigned to groups or as homework; and recreational/motivational literature, including individual leisure-time materials. The first section (Core and Extended Materials) includes such categories as: picture books, folktales, myths (Kalipunan through Grade Six), and books in languages other than English. The second section (Recreational and Motivational Materials) includes similar categories including: Modern Fantasy and Science Fiction, Poetry, Contemporary Realistic Fiction, and Historical Fiction. The third section (Materials for Students in Grades Seven and Eight) includes the categories: Adventure, Biography and Autobiography, Personal Experience, Classics, Mythology, and Short Stories. [35]
A compelling message of hope, this book highlights the work of ordinary individuals who take unusual, even extraordinary action for the good of the planet. These profiles offer concrete, practical examples of how even the most intractable global problems can be tackled and solved with small, carefully targeted strategies and steps. Now humanity has the power to choose the future; this book offers the inspiration as well as the motivation.

In its seventh edition, "Through the Eyes of a Child: An Introduction to Children’s Literature" continues to be a visually stunning, theoretically sound, comprehensive overview of children’s literature. It focuses squarely on selecting and evaluating quality literature to share with children and guiding them to appreciate and respond to that literature. This edition features multicultural literature and young adult literature in every chapter, expanded coverage of biographies and informational books and over 100 new children’s titles referenced throughout. A children's literature CD-ROM accompanies the book and contains bibliographic information for thousands of titles, making it even easier to share quality literature with children and adolescents.
